

Nu Stadium

2026

AGENDA CONCEPT

Nu Stadium, Miami, Florida / September 23-25, 2026

2026 AGENDA CONCEPT

INTER MIAMI

Redefining Global Football Partnerships

Inter Miami CF has built one of the most commercially valuable brands in world football in under a decade, attracting global sponsors, media partners, and cultural collaborators typically reserved for Europe's biggest clubs. Club leadership and commercial partners discuss how the organization structures deals, activates across markets, and converts attention into long-term partnership value. The conversation examines what the Inter Miami model teaches the sport about building a global football brand from a North American base.

STATE OF GLOBAL FOOTBALL BUSINESS IN 2026

Senior Leaders on Where the Industry Goes Next

With the FIFA World Cup™ just behind us and a new era of investment, media, and global expansion underway, this conversation brings together the senior commercial voices shaping where the football industry goes in the second half of the decade. From club valuations and media rights to federation strategy and emerging markets, the biggest questions in football business get addressed head on.

CONCACAF'S BUSINESS FUTURE

Building the Game's Most Dynamic Region

CONCACAF enters a defining chapter following the FIFA World Cup™, now leading the region's football development. Leadership discusses expanding club competitions, growing women's and youth football, and building the commercial infrastructure to make North America one of the most dynamic football markets on the planet.

2026 AGENDA CONCEPT

FOOTBALL SPONSORSHIP IN THE AMERICAS

Brand Activation in the New Football Economy

Sponsorship in football has evolved well past the front-of-shirt deal. Brands now build year-round programs around clubs, leagues, and federations. This panel features the brands and agencies leading the next wave of football sponsorship in the Americas.

BUILDING THE STAGE FOR THE MODERN GAME

World-renowned architects, stadium developers, and sports infrastructure leaders come together to discuss the complexities of delivering today's premier football venues. From stadium construction and surrounding infrastructure to high-performance pitch systems and long-term facility sustainability, this panel explores what it takes to build world-class destinations for the next generation of sport.

FOOTBALL INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

Multi-Club, Player Trading, Academies & Beyond

Football has attracted a new generation of investors with distinct theses — from multi-club ownership models and player trading platforms to academy infrastructure and alternative asset structures. This panel brings together operators across each of these verticals to break down the strategies, the returns, and where capital is moving next in the global football economy.

THE NEXT DECADE OF MLS

MLS in the Post-FIFA World Cup™ Era

MLS enters its fourth decade as the fastest-growing major professional league in North American sports. League and club leadership discuss expansion strategy, the Leagues Cup model, audience growth following the FIFA World Cup™, and how the league retains millions of new fans introduced to football in 2026.

2026 AGENDA CONCEPT

AFTER THE FIFA WORLD CUP™

Sustaining Momentum in North America

The 2026 FIFA World Cup™ brought football to the largest audience ever assembled across the United States, Canada, and Mexico. The harder question starts now. Host city executives, federation leaders, and commercial partners discuss how clubs, leagues, brands, and infrastructure investors convert tournament audiences into durable football demand across the region.

THE COMMERCIAL POWER OF WOMEN'S FOOTBALL

Capital, Growth, and Opportunity

Women's football has become one of the fastest-growing investment opportunities in global sport. This panel brings together investors, commercial operators, finance leaders, and media executives to examine where the money is going, what the returns look like, and where the biggest opportunities remain.

FROM VENUE TO DISTRICT

How the Biggest Names in Sports & Entertainment Are Elevating Global Cities

The modern stadium is no longer a single-use building. It anchors mixed-use districts that combine retail, hospitality, residential, and year-round entertainment programming, reshaping the neighborhoods and cities around them. Owners, developers, and entertainment operators behind some of the most ambitious projects in sport discuss how these districts get financed and delivered, what they return beyond matchday, and how they position host cities as permanent global destinations.

ONE-ON-ONE

LEGENDS FIRESIDE CHAT

Each edition of Soccerex Miami features an exclusive one-on-one fireside chat with a football legend whose career left a mark on the game across the Americas and beyond. This session steps away from the boardroom and into the personal — exploring the journey from player to icon, the lessons learned along the way, and how the game has evolved through their eyes.

2026 AGENDA CONCEPT

ROAD TO BRAZIL 2027

A Turning Point for Women's Football

The 2027 FIFA Women's World Cup™ represents the biggest commercial opportunity in the history of women's football. This panel brings together clubs, federations, brands, and investors to explore how the tournament is reshaping sponsorship landscapes, broadcasting deals, and infrastructure investment — and what the long-term legacy means for the women's game worldwide.

FAN ENGAGEMENT IN THE POST-FIFA WORLD CUP™ ERA

From Casual Viewers to Lifetime Fans

Millions of new fans entered football during the FIFA World Cup™ 2026. The challenge now is turning temporary interest into lasting engagement. This panel explores how clubs, leagues, brands, and media platforms are using content, community, technology, and live experiences to build loyal supporters and sustain growth long after the tournament ends.

TECH IN FOOTBALL

AI, Performance, and the Modern Front Office

Football tech has matured from a buzzword into a core operating discipline. Front offices, scouting departments, and performance teams now run on data platforms, AI tools, and video systems that were unimaginable a decade ago. This panel brings together the builders and the buyers to examine what technology is delivering on the pitch and in the boardroom, and what comes next.

FOOTBALL'S MEDIA FUTURE

Rights, Streaming, and the New Media Era

Traditional broadcasters and streaming giants are competing for football rights packages that now command record valuations, while clubs and leagues build their own direct-to-consumer channels. This panel brings together rightsholders, broadcasters, and digital platforms to examine how football content is being packaged, distributed, and monetized in the new media era.

2026 AGENDA CONCEPT

THE MATCHDAY BUSINESS

Premium, Hospitality & Revenue Growth

Examining ticketing strategy, premium experiences, hospitality innovation and revenue optimization across American markets. Industry leaders discuss how the matchday product is evolving to meet new audience expectations and deliver sustainable revenue growth.

FOOTBALL WITH PURPOSE

Inclusion, Community, and the Game's Wider Impact

Football's greatest power is its reach. This panel brings together foundations, federations, and grassroots leaders using the game as a tool for inclusion, youth development, and social impact across the Americas.

BUILDING THE NEXT GENERATION

Academies in the Americas

Academies are the engine of the global player economy and the focal point of a new wave of investment in the Americas. From Inter Miami's pathway to what the German and Spanish models are exporting into the region, this panel examines how academies are evolving as both football institutions and commercial platforms.

SOCCEREX MIAMI 2026

Nu Stadium / Sep 23-25, 2026

soccerex.com